English language instruction for Monroe School District students whose first language is not English. For the 2002-2003 school year elementary through high school students take ELL at Frank Wagner Elementary and Middle Schools, the Junior High School and High School. Entry into ELL is determined by an oral language test given to new students whose first language is not English. Another test must be passed to exit the program. Beginning in 2002-2003, kindergartners not at ease with English will spend half a day in traditional kindergarten and half a day taking English instruction for as long as such instruction is needed.
