Press Release

The 2006 Snohomish County Charter Review Commission establishes a web page at http://www1.co.snohomish.wa.us/County\_Services/Charter\_Review.

The web page includes a survey that will change every couple of weeks to seek public opinion related to potential Charter changes

Everett, WA March 13, 2006: The 2006 Snohomish County Charter Review Commission has established a web page to provide ongoing information related to its activities including meeting schedule, meeting minutes issues under consideration and recent press articles.

The web page includes an opportunity to take a survey related to issues the commission is considering. This survey will change every two weeks to include new topics for consideration. The commission hopes to generate public interest in the Charter which is the County's constitution.

The web page address is http://www1.co.snohomish.wa.us/County\_Services/Charter\_Review

The Snohomish County Charter Review Commission is made up of three elected representatives from each council district. Their job is to review the charter's performance since its last review, ten years ago and make recommended changes to the citizens of the county. Anyone wishing to give testimony should either attend future scheduled meetings or send it in writing to the Charter Review Commission, M/S 410, 3000 Rockefeller, Everett, WA 98201.
