Peter Camp Appointed Snohomish County Executive Director

Snohomish County Executive Aaron Reardon announced today that Peter Camp has been hired as Executive Director. His official start date is Monday, March 27, 2006.

Camp will be responsible for oversight of the Department of Planning and Development Services, Paine Field, Environmental Policy and Economic Development.

“Peter brings to this important position impeccable credentials and extensive experience in the field of public policy and law.” says Executive Aaron Reardon.

Camp has worked for eighteen years in the public and private sectors advising on business organization, governance and financing, corporate finance, disputes and handling of complex commercial litigation. He is an active member of the 9th Circuit Court of Appeals pro bono panel, handling numerous appeals as a volunteer.

Most recently Camp served as the City of Everett’s interim City Attorney and Deputy City Attorney. Camp worked for the City of Everett eight years advising city officials on business and legal matters of public works, public transit, parks and police. He received his undergraduate degree from Rice University in Houston and a Juris Doctorate from Columbia University in New York City.

Camp is replacing Tom Fitzpatrick who recently returned to the private practice of law. His official start date at the County is March 27, 2006.
