Air-quality burn ban lifted

Effective immediately, the stagnant/air-quality burn ban instituted last week has been lifted.

Outdoor residential burning is again allowed with proper permits from local fire authorities.

Flood debris, however, should not be burned. Contact the Snohomish County Department of Emergency Management at 425-388-5060 for how and where to dispose of flood debris.

For more information on outdoor burning restrictions, call the Snohomish County Outdoor Burning Information Hotline at 425-388-3508. For information on the county Fire Marshal's Office, call 425-388-3557.
