Reardon Appointed to State Climate Advisory

Governor Chris Gregoire today announced the appointment of Snohomish County Executive Aaron Reardon to the Washington Climate Change Challenge Advisory Team.

The Advisory Team will meet Friday, March 30, to begin considering the full range of policies and strategies that may be adopted to achieve the goals she established in an Executive Order 07-06.

Executive Reardon said, “Climate change is one of our most significant contemporary challenges. I welcome the opportunity to engage in meaningful discussion, review applicable models and advance workable climate control solutions.”

Governor Gregoire in February issued an executive order outlining the challenges that climate change poses for the state and the steps already being taken to limit and prepare for climate change and created Washington Climate Change Challenge and directed the departments of Ecology and Community, Trade and Economic Development (CTED) to form the Climate Advisory Team to forge solutions to climate change issues.

The Advisory Team will make recommendations for action to Governor Gregoire by February 2008.
