PRELIMINARY YEAR END BUDGET REPORT: DECEMBER, 2008

This report presents a 2008 preliminary year end update of Snohomish County financial operations. While the information contained in the report is substantially complete, the information is subject to possible adjustments based upon the County's financial year end closing.

General Overview

The Puget Sound economy is stronger than almost any regional economy in this country. However it has slowed significantly in the past year. The County economy continues to benefit from Boeing and Microsoft. However, the housing bubble has resulted in falling housing values, foreclosures and bank balance sheets that are so leveraged that the banks are unable or unwilling to make additional loans.

General Fund

In 2008, County General Fund revenues dropped significantly below budgeted levels as a result of the economic downturn reducing fund balance by approximately $19 million. In response, resources in the 2009 adopted budget were reduced including 93 fewer General Fund FTEs than the 2008 budget. The County is closely monitoring 2009 revenues to identify any deterioration in revenue trends that would require adjustment to 2009 spending patterns.

YTD Revenue

As reported in the third quarter budget report, the national credit crisis has significantly impacted Snohomish County General Fund 2008 sales tax revenues and also affected a variety of other revenue sources. Total revenues for the year were $19 million less than budgeted. Revenue elements contributing to this variance are identified in the table on page 4 of the report. Major drivers of this shortfall are briefly explained below:

1. Sales Tax collections for 2008 were $9.2 million less than budget. The credit crisis and historic plunge in consumer confidence, as well as the Boeing work stoppage impacted receipts. In addition to the drop in sales activity, State projections for the impact of sales tax sourcing were overstated, resulting in a significant portion of the County's reduction in 2008 projected sales tax revenues. A more detailed analysis of the drop in Snohomish County sales activity occurs later in this report.

2. Real Estate sales tax (as discussed later in this report) has reduced as housing sales have plunged. The reduction in this General Fund revenue element is a direct result of that factor.
3. Gambling Fee revenue has been reduced as consumer discretionary income has been cut back.
4. Property Tax Delinquent Fees and Delinquent Taxes are recognized on a cash basis. The decrease in this item reflects home-owner's difficulties in keeping up with their payments.
5. The drop in revenue from the Sale of Timber by the State reflects the drop in wood prices which is driven by the drop in home construction.
6. The drop in revenue for Recording of Legal Instruments is a direct result of fewer home sales and refinanced mortgages.
7. Investment Income has plunged as a result the drop in Federal Funds rates.

2009 General Fund revenue projections were updated in late October prior to Council adoption of the budget to reflect the major economic changes that occurred in the fall of 2008. At this time, all General Fund revenue elements were reevaluated and reestimated to reflect the economic changes that occurred in September and October.

GF Expenditures The General Fund year end expenditures are in line with the level anticipated at the end of the third quarter. Superior Court, Corrections and the Sheriff's department-wide budgets were over-expended, but budget action is pending to authorize appropriations. Information regarding these variances was communicated early to the Executive and Council. Information about the possible variances was included in the third quarter budget report to Council.

The Sheriff Office's $112 thousand variance resulted from a 2008 contract settlement, a portion of which the Sheriff's Office was asked to try to absorb into their budget. The Sheriff was able to absorb most of the additional costs. The Department of Corrections $321 thousand variance resulted from the settlement of a multiple year legal unanticipated grievance settlement within their 2008 budget, most of which was absorbed by the department. The Superior Court's $210 thousand variance resulted from overtime that was incurred above budgeted levels.

The 2009 adopted budget included significant staffing and operational expenditure reductions to assure that the County's budget would conform to available revenues.

5-Year Trend Figure 3 includes a five-year projection for General Fund revenues, expenditures and fund balance.

In general, the projection does not reflect specific strategic plans or trend changes occurring on a year-by-year basis. There are some exceptions to this approach:

- The projection assumes one-half of annual salary and wage growth rate (1.75%) for 2010 due to consumer price inflation increase that is anticipated to be lower than historical levels.
- The projection assumes 0.5% under-expenditures reflecting the assumed reductions already included in department budgets. This percentage level is lower than historical levels, but reflects the fact that under-expenditures are included in the base 2009 adopted budget.
- 2011 revenues and expenditures are adjusted to reflect annexations at 80% of estimated probable annexations.

Real Estate Excise Tax

2008 Snohomish County Real Estate Excise Tax (REET) revenues plunged as real estate sales were impacted by the credit crisis and low level of consumer confidence. During the year, the County modified its budget and scaled back its planned REET expenditures in line with the economic change.

Finance Department staff are closely monitoring 2009 revenue trends and are prepared to recommend expenditure plan changes if 2009 revenues fall short of necessary trends to achieve the budget. More information relevant to the decline in Real Estate Excise Tax Revenues is available on page 9 of this report under “Home Sales”.

Other Funds Year-end Updates

Below are brief updates on other major County funds with noteworthy year end reports.

- County Road* The County Road fund expended $24.2 million of fund balance in 2008. This is consistent with the plan for County Roads and represents moving forward on major roads projects.

- Community Development* Permit activity has declined significantly as a result of the housing decline. Planning and Development Services has significantly reduced staffing as a consequence. The 2009 budget for this program has been reduced to reflect this circumstance and permit activity is being closely tracked to assure that use of resources balances with available revenue.

- Surface Water & Solid Waste* Both of these major public works programs and funds expended fund balance to respond to growing business requirements as planned. Both programs will benefit from rate increases in 2009. The Solid Waste increase absorbs significant increases in operational costs. The utility had not had a fee increase since 1992. Surface Water’s fee increase allows them to expand their National Pollutant Discharge Elimination System compliance efforts in 2009 as required in the County’s license with the federal government.

- SC Insurance* The County resolved a series of litigation issues in 2008 at a level greater than reserves. The impact of these settlements was mitigated by the reductions in costs due to the fact that trends in worker’s compensation are declining.

Economic Outlook

Over the past year, the United State’s economy has continued to slow down. The country’s recession has had a significant impact upon the local economy. Significant reductions in county staffing in the County’s 2009 budget respond to these economic challenges.

The Puget Sound economy which is stronger than almost any regional economy in this country has slowed significantly in the past year. We continue to benefit from Boeing and Microsoft. However, the housing bubble has resulted in falling housing values, foreclosures and bank balance sheets that are so leveraged that the banks are unable or unwilling to make additional loans. However the United States and much of the international economy is facing the most significant economic threat in more than sixty years.

The world – led by the United States – is facing a liquidity crisis. Consumer restraint that has resulted from this crisis has resulted in asset deflation. In the final six months of 2008, with a decline in the consumer price index, the buying power of a dollar has actually increased by 3.2%. This means that corporate and personal assets have gone down in value, adding to the balance sheet challenges facing corporations and individuals throughout the country. In response to the crisis, the federal government has pumped capital into the country by lowering lending rates and by “giving” capital to banks. The federal government is now initiating a stimulus package designed to essentially create inflation (in place of deflation) by directed spending and by one-time tax credits intended to increase consumer spending.

Even companies that have significant amounts of capital have stopped investing and consumers who have relatively small mortgages and good credit have stopped making discretionary purchases. Businesses are afraid of the recession becoming worse and impacting their sales; and consumers are afraid of losing their jobs. Individuals who are ready to buy a home are waiting to make sure that housing values do not decrease more before they make their purchase. The questions we face now are when will fear subside, how steep will this decline be and when will the decline end.

The County’s unemployment rate which had hovered between 4% and 5% for several years has increased to 7.1% and is anticipated to increase above 8% by year end.

Even though Snohomish County is fairing better than much of the country (housing values here have gone down by about 12% in the past year as compared to areas of the country with 40% or more), consumer fear has impacted every segment of our economy. Even though the deflation in Snohomish County home values has not compared to much of the country, the overbuilding that occurred in our region over the past few years means that the construction industry – which propelled local growth over that period – will not significantly improve until the backlog in existing vacant housing has been utilized. That backlog is currently equal to ten months of home sales inventory. Working over that backlog could take several years.

While even Boeing and Microsoft have spoken about curtailing hiring and initiating reductions in their work forces, unless the economy worsens, they continue to be strong drivers for our economy. The depth of the recession in this area is not anticipated to match the 2001 – 2003 recession. Regional economists anticipate that the by the end of 2009, the economy will begin a soft rebound.

Uncertainty regarding the economy in 2009 includes possible impact of lay-offs and a continuing general worsening of economic conditions. This is balanced against possible positive impact of Federal spending initiatives, and consumer confidence returning as liquidity returns to the market.

Employment Unemployment spared no state in December. Jobless rates for December hit double digits in Michigan and Rhode Island, while South Carolina and Indiana notched the biggest gains from the previous month. A common thread among these states has been manufacturing industry layoffs tied to consumers' shrinking appetite for cars, furniture and other goods.

The number of newly laid off Americans filing claims for state unemployment benefits has soared to 589,000, while people continuing to draw claims climbed to 4.6 million, the government said last week. There's been such a crush that resources in New York, California and other states have run dry, forcing them to tap the federal government for money to keep paying unemployment benefits.

Snohomish County lost an estimated 3,680 jobs in December as the unemployment rate here hit 7.1 percent last month. That's up from 6.2 percent in November. While retailers cut 300 jobs, restaurants and bars went even further, putting 500 of their employees out of work. Construction, which has slashed 2,900 jobs during the past year, cut another 200 last month and the professional and business services sector lost 300 workers. In Snohomish County, the unemployment rate was 4.1 percent in December 2007. Then, there were 15,400 people on unemployment. Last month, the number was 27,140.

County Sales

Table 5 (County Sales by SIC Code) on page 10 reports overall retail and wholesale sales within the County. The information contained in this report relates to the period ending September 30th, 2008. The lag is a result of the time it takes for the State to receive and then process the data.

Retail sales for the third quarter of 2008 show that major purchases including Auto Dealers, Furniture, Electronics, and Building Materials showed losses of 20% compared to the third quarter of 2007. But, third quarter 2008 for all other retail sales grew slightly from the third quarter of 2007. These contrasting factors describe the condition of an economy with sufficient purchasing capacity, but we have consumers who are being cautious about buying large items in addition to facing reduced credit availability.

Boeing Co.

Boeing Co. swung to a surprise fourth-quarter loss, hurt by a labor strike that disrupted deliveries. The results come on top of a reduction in new orders for the company's commercial jets. Airlines are cutting spending and air travel has declined amid the global economic slowdown. Boeing recently said it plans to cut about 10,000 positions, or about 6 percent of its work force, as a result of the worsening market conditions. More than half the 10,000 jobs Boeing will eliminate are in Washington, including the 4,500 job cuts in the commercial-airplanes unit announced earlier this month.

Fourth-quarter revenue fell 27 percent to $12.68 billion. Passenger and cargo jet deliveries fell by more than half as a strike by production workers paralyzed the company's Seattle-based commercial aircraft operations for 58 days through early November. Analysts had expected revenue of $13.40 billion in the quarter. The company's 2009 financial forecast assumes stable deliveries over the next few years of commercial airplanes that are in production. Its commercial aircraft business expects to deliver between 480 and 485 airplanes this year. To date, Boeing said 58 customers had placed 895 orders for 787s, excluding a recently canceled order from one customer for planes scheduled for delivery late in the next decade. After three consecutive years of exceptionally strong growth, Boeing commercial jet orders declined by half in 2008. Still, the aerospace company has orders for a record 3,700 planes.

Home Sales

Nationally, sales of existing homes posted an unexpected increase last month, closing out the worst year for the U.S. real estate market in more than a decade. The National Association of Realtors said today that sales of existing homes rose 6.5 percent to an annual rate of 4.74 million in December, from a downwardly revised pace of 4.45 million in November. The results were better than expected. December's sales had been forecasted to fall to a pace of 4.4 million units. Buyers were taking advantage of dramatically lower prices, especially in distressed markets like California, Florida and Nevada, where foreclosures have swamped the market. The nationwide median sales price plunged to $175,400, down 15.3 percent from $207,000 a year ago. For all of 2008, there were 4.9 million existing home sales, down more than 13 percent from a year earlier, and the lowest total since 1997.

In Snohomish County, the median sales price for single family homes and condos fell by 9.62 percent to $307,000 from the previous December. The median sales price of a single family home in King County fell 7.24 percent over the previous December, to $403,500. It marks the 11th consecutive month of median price declines when compared to the same period the year before. The residential markets in Pierce and Kitsap did not fare as well, dropping 12.95 percent at $235,000 for Pierce and 16.57 percent at $221,500 in Kitsap when compared to a year ago.
