QUARTERLY BUDGET REPORT: MARCH, 2006

This report will provide a first quarter, year 2006 financial update of Snohomish County fiscal operations.

General Overview

Every indicator shows outstanding performance by the County economy. Boeing has continued to post strong airplane sales and increase its workforce. County-wide unemployment declined while retail and wholesale sales increased. Snohomish County is experiencing continued strong performance in the real estate market and is not anticipating a drop in the foreseeable future in home prices. Dick Conway of Conway Peterson, a Seattle Economic Consulting Firm, predicts that Snohomish County will be the fastest-growing part of the Puget Sound region over the next few years.

As of the date of this report, no significant 2006 County government expenditure or revenue trends have been identified that would cause questions regarding the County's financial position.

General Fund

The County General Fund performance has offered no surprises through the first quarter of 2006. Because the County's adopted 2006 budget does not use fund balance, and because of the County's commitment to manage its budget aggressively, General Fund fund balance will continue to grow over the coming few years.

Projected Fund Balance 12/31/05	$ 22,887,006

YTD Revenue

Since most County revenues are not received evenly throughout the year, first quarter revenues are not a precise predictor of year-end revenues. But, at this point, no major revenue variances – positive or negative – have emerged from the County's 2006 budget plan. Figure 2 on the following page presents General Fund year-to-date revenue results.

YTD Expenditures At this early date, 2006 year-to-date expenditures are in line with expectations. Please note that programs with heavy capital investment components incur the largest portion of their budgets in the summer months.

5-Year Trend The table on the following page represents a high level multi-year projection of Snohomish County General Fund revenue and expense. The projection is nearly identical to the projection presented with the adopted 2006 budget. The only changes are that 2005 actual revenues and expenditures have replaced budgeted levels and that the beginning 2005 Fund Balance has been adjusted to reflect the cumulative impact of change in accounting principle moving from a cash basis to an accrual basis for local sales tax revenues.

In general, the projection does not reflect specific strategic plans or trend changes occurring on a year-by-year basis. However, there are some specific exceptions to this approach:

- Increases in investment revenue have been factored in for 2007 and 2008 that increase investment earnings at the end of that period to 2001 levels.
- Annual pension increases, beyond the trend of approximately one percent of salaries have been factored in throughout the life of this projection.
- The projection does not anticipate implementation of Sales Tax Sourcing or reflect impacts of possible annexations.
- Interfund Transfers are not included in revenue for the purpose of calculating Fund Balance percentage.

Real Estate Excise Tax

Real Estate Excise Tax revenue for the first quarter continued to be strong propelled by the strong real estate market and continued historically low interest rates. The county's real estate market is anticipated to continue growing in spite of projected increases in mortgage rates through the remainder of the year.

Washington State Legislative Action

Last year, the Legislature appropriated $500,000 to study how to best meet the region's higher-education needs. Snohomish County has one of the state's lowest percentages of residents with undergraduate degrees. Local leaders have attributed that to the lack of a four-year state college between Seattle and Bellingham.

A polytechnic university with an emphasis on applied sciences, technology and engineering emerged as the leading alternative among ideas for a new state college to serve north Snohomish, Island and Skagit counties. A 13-member committee studying the region's higher-education needs recommended four alternatives for further study, including a regional state college and creation of a University of Washington branch campus in the three-county area.

The vision for a polytechnic college entails a close partnership between the state's high-tech and manufacturing industries with a new college's programs and research. Backers say the idea could win the support of key regional employers, including Microsoft and Boeing, and in turn influence the Legislature, which ultimately has the authority to approve and fund any new college.

Economic Outlook

The economic outlook for Snohomish County continues to be strong. Dick Conway of Conway Peterson, a Seattle Economic Consulting Firm, predicts that Snohomish County will be the fastest-growing part of the Puget Sound region over the next few years. "It looks like employment is going to expand for the next five or six years," he said. The growth won't match last year's "rather astounding rate" of 5.5 percent, but it will be at a sustained pace. Conway predicted that employment growth will be 4.5% in 2006 and 4.1% in 2007. His analysis predicts that personal income in the County will go up by just under 5% in those years.

Boeing The President of China, On Hu Jintao, addressed some 5,000 to 6,000 guests and Boeing workers at the Everett assembly plant on April 19th. Boeing commercial airplanes chief executive Alan Mulally introduced Hu and both men spoke glowingly of the relationship between Boeing and China.

In his speech, Hu described the close relationship between China and Boeing as emblematic of the good that can come from better trade relations. "I would say that Boeing's cooperation with China is a vivid example of the mutually beneficial cooperation and win-win outcome that China and the United States have achieved from trading with each other," he said through an interpreter. "I sincerely hope that the cooperation between Boeing and China will be even more successful in future and will further expand in scale," he said. "And I also sincerely hope that the economic and trade relations between our two countries in general will prosper further and fly higher, just like a Boeing plane."

Hu also visited a screened off area where Boeing had brought in the large single-piece 787 fuselage barrel that's normally housed at the Future of Flight exhibition center near the plant. Mike Bair, head of the 787 program, gave Hu a briefing. China has ordered 60 of the airplanes.

Employment The statewide unemployment rate dropped to 4.6 percent in March. That matched January's jobless rate, before an influx of new job-seekers bumped it up to 4.8 percent in February. The state's jobless rate for March fell below the national rate (4.7 percent) and has not been this low since November 1999. Snohomish County' unemployment rate fell to 4.7 percent from 4.9 percent in March as well.

County Sales Table 4 on page 9 summarizes County retail and total sales for the quarter ending 12/31/2005 and for the three prior quarter. Total retail sales increased by 12.25 percent for the fourth quarter of 2005 over 2004. Strong sales growth is evident across most sectors. Interestingly enough, new car sales growth, important to total sales in 2003 and 2004, increased at less than 5% level over the prior year. Non-retail portions of the economy increased at an even greater level. Overall Retail, Service, and Wholesale sales were almost 16% greater than for the same quarter in 2005. This statistic underlies strong performance across the County's economy.

Real Estate While much of the nation has seen home sales decline, area brokers say the added inventory and attractive financing are still fueling the Snohomish County market. . Home sales in Snohomish County picked up a bit in March, while prices continued their upward climb, according to the Northwest Multiple Listing Service. The combined median price for single-family homes and condominiums rose to $312,000 last month, a 17.74 percent increase from April 2005. For single-family homes, the median price was $329,900, a nearly 18 percent hike from a year ago. For condos, the median was $199,950, up 7.8 percent from April 2005.
